

NOOSHIN GHAYOUMI, DDS

OC Periodontics and Implants
Nooshin Ghayoumi, DDS, Inc

Dr. Ghayoumi is a highly accomplished dental professional specializing in Periodontology and Dental Implants. After earning her Doctorate of Dental Surgery in 1992, she pursued advanced training at the University of Southern California from 1999-2002, specializing in Periodontology and Dental Implants. During her postgraduate studies, she honed her skills in various complex procedures, including soft and hard tissue surgery, periodontal plastic surgery, dental implants, surgical extractions, bone grafts, and sinus lifts.

Dr. Ghayoumi has made significant achievements above and beyond the mandatory educational requirements in her specialty. She is a board certified at the American Board of Periodontology, where she is a diplomate. She has contributed to the field through teaching as a part-time clinical assistant professor at the University of Southern California, Department of Periodontology, and through her published research in scientific journals.

Dr. Ghayoumi is a pioneer in the field of lip repositioning surgery, a groundbreaking procedure to treat gummy smiles. Unlike temporary cosmetic treatments, this surgery offers lasting, transformative results for patients. Known for her commitment to exceptional care, Dr. Ghayoumi ensures that her patients experience both outstanding treatment and satisfaction.
